

Anchorage Daily News Lobby

Access to the Anchorage Daily News (ADN) lobby is via the Carr-Gottstein Lobby directly off of 6th Avenue. There is also access through the grand hallway from the other side of the building. The ADN is a small lobby directly outside the Sydney Laurence House. It has a video monitor mounted on the wall and has a feed from the audio booth providing sound. In addition to the normal lighting, the ADN has one area with separate track lighting.

Coat check is available in the Carr-Gottstein lobby on Orchestra level by catering. The ticket office is located on street level of the Carr-Gottstein lobby.